

John Donnes Devotions (Annotated)

This volume of John Donnes writings begins with a biography of John Donnes life, as told by Donnes writer friend, Izaak Walton. Walton gives readers a close look at Donnes past, which was plagued with the loss of many close family members. This biographical information helps readers to make better sense of the somber devotions contained in this volume. In his Devotions upon Emergent Occasions, Donne concentrates on the miserable condition of man and the inevitability of death. The devotions are all structured the same, each beginning with a meditation followed by an expostulation and a prayer. These devotions serve as a preview for Donnes Deaths Duel Sermon, written near his death in 1631 as his funeral sermon. While Deaths Duel paints a grave picture of earthly life tormented by pain and death, it hopes for a bright future in Gods love through Christs resurrection and ascension. Praised for his literary talent, Donna provides Christians with an introspective look at the nature of morality. It is from the great works in this collection that we find the origin of well-known phrases For whom the bell tolls and No man is an island. Emmalon DavisCCEL Staff Writer This edition features an artistic cover, a new promotional introduction, an index of scripture references, links for scripture references to the appropriate passages, and a hierarchical table of contents which makes it possible to navigate to any part of the book with a minimum of page turns.
