Buy the College Prowler guidebook to Pomona College, and find out all the things the other prospies only wish they had known ... Things I Wish I Knew Before Coming to Pomona: * Not to take any classes before noon. (Though it's totally doable.) * If you want to work with dolphins, you have to take Bio classes, Neurochem classes, Psych classes, and Cog-Sci classes. Philosophy and English don't cut it. * Philosophy and English are fun, and they allow you, if you engage in them with vigor and verve, to be learned and yet still cool. This lets you look down on all the naive kids with nice haircuts and pressed pants taking computer science. All this I knew. However, what didn't occur to me is that it is these kids who get $60,000 plus job offers right out of college. Then they can afford really nice pants. Who is feeling superior now? * Do as much stuff as possible! It is far too easy to be apathetic, both academically and socially, at Pomona. Generally, the more you do, the better time you'll have. *

Dreadlocks, although tres faconable, are itchy, smelly, and generally annoying to grow. * The Kings English: Its useful, and youre not going to learn it here. Find out if Pomona truly has something for you, straight from the students mouths. Visiting campus isnt enough.
