

How to Raise a Smarter Kid

Five very important ideas are conveyed in this book and, if nothing else, be aware of the following: 1. Spending time and talking with your child helps him /her emotionally and socially, thus improving his/her chances of being successful in school. 2. The Activities that involve reading and math are critical to your child's success in school and in life. 3. TV, the Internet and computer games, if monitored closely by parents, can be beneficial to your child. However, these activities must be limited and done with the utmost discretion. 4. Talk to your child about his/her relationships with others, emphasizing the importance of getting along, tolerance, and respect for the feelings of others. 5. Talk to your child about responsibility in doing their homework, taking care of their things, picking up after themselves and sharing in the family chores.
